Seawind flying high after successful testing

After years of development, innovative aircraft poised for success in homebuilt market

By LEN PIZZEY
Echo Editor

Seawind International, the Haliburton based experimental aircraft company which has designed and built an all-fibre-glass, four seater plane for home builders, took a giant step forward recently when the aircraft successfully took off and landed on water. The sleek, all white plane lifted off and landed several times on July 22 from a lake near Arnprior airport. At the controls was Elton Townsend, an experienced amphibian pilot.

Len Creelman, president of Rodlen Aircraft Incorporated, which developed the Seawind from an idea to the prototype, and which hopes to market it in kit form once final testing is completed, described the amphibious landings and takeoffs as "a big milestone."

about 60 miles an hour and land at about 55 mph, Creelman said.

Once a final hull configuration has been proven in further water testing, molds will be altered and production of the main structural components for a fourth prototype will begin. This prototype will look like the test aircraft, but will have "many differences," Creelman said, "mainly in the weight, and in the way the pieces are put together."

Production of components for Seawind kits is expected to get underway later this year. "We anticipate that by very early in 1985, we'll be sending pieces out to people," Creelman said.

The company has received enquiries about the plane from around the world, and has sent out over 1100 information packages to potential buyers in 25 countries. Close to 200 tentative development for the past 10 years.

Work on the present prototype began in January 1981, after the second prototype crashed in Drag Lake and was severely damaged (the pilot escaped uninjured). Creelman estimates that it has cost close to $400,000 to develop the aircraft, with much of that money coming from local investors.

The company sees a market for as many as 200 Seawind kits a year for the next five or six years, Creelman said. Fibreglass components are expected to be fabricated in plant facilities outside the area, but kits will be prepared in Haliburton for shipment to buyers. Creelman predicted that up to 80 percent of the kits will go to buyers in other countries.

While the company hopes that demand for the Seawind will remain strong for a long time to come, it is already looking at new designs, particularly to appeal to the burgeoning market for micro-light aircraft.

In the meantime, work to perfect Seawind will continue.

plane will soon be produced in kit form for a worldwide market.

'A very easy aircraft to fly'

"Up until last Sunday it was an aircraft that flew well, but we didn't know it was an amphibian," Creelman said Monday, in an interview at the company's workshop near Haliburton.

The plane underwent the mandatory 50 hours of flight testing from an airport near Ottawa, and performed well in wheeled landings. But it is the amphibious potential of the plane which will be its most important selling point in the substantial market for home built aircraft, the company believes.

With 50 hours flown off, federal transport ministry restrictions were lifted, and Seawind was flown to Haliburton last Sunday, landing on Lake Kashagawigamog, where it will undergo further modifications and testing.

At present, Seawind lifts off from the water at 70 miles an hour, and can accomplish a full flap landing at about 60 miles an hour. These speeds are a little higher than the company would like them to be, and so hull modifications will be undertaken to decrease hydrodynamic drag. With these changes, and a more efficient propeller, Seawind should take off from water at orders have been received, and before the end of the year "we expect to have well over 100 firm orders on hand, with deposits," Creelman said.

Seawind kits will sell for about $25,000 Canadian. Assembly of the components and fabrication of bulkheads, controls and other internal parts by the buyer will require approximately 1000 hours of labour. Including a good used engine and propeller, a buyer will have to invest about $35,000 to buy and complete a Seawind. This is substantially less than the cost of any amphibious aircraft currently available from manufacturers, Creelman said.

Performance of the Seawind is exceptional, according to test reports. With a 200 horsepower Lycoming engine, it cruises at 170 mph, climbs at 950 feet per minute, has a top speed of about 175 mph, and with 40 gallons of fuel, has a range of about 650 miles.

"The test pilot says it is a very easy aircraft to fly," Creelman said. Any competent pilot is expected to be able to handle it safely from land, while amphibious operation will demand only the normal amount of extra training and caution.

Residents protest housing project

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Residents of Highland Gate Estates have asked Anson, Hindon and Minden council to halt plans for the construction of a subsidized housing unit in their subdivision.

Speaking on behalf of Highland Gate homeowners, Brenden Berube told council "a new subdivision is not the place to implement such a program." Berube said he was concerned that the move would decrease property value. "We're not objecting to the program, just the way it's being applied," he said.

The project proposed for the Highland Gate site is part of the Native and Rural Housing Program, a social welfare project sponsored by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, an agency of the Federal government. Under the provisions of this program, houses are sold to native or low income families with a mortgage subsidized by CMHC.

Berube told council that existing houses should be purchased by the federal organization for the housing program, rather than constructing new houses on vacant lots bought by CMHC.

The lot where the planned unit will be situated was acquired by the municipality as part of a dedication required when the subdivision was established. The municipality took possession with the understanding that services for the residents of Highland Gate would be provided once the lot was sold. The lot was in turn sold to CMHC by the municipality.

Residents of Highland Gate say they are willing to wait for services if it will stop the construction of the proposed unit. "We don't want the municipality to sell the lot. We are willing to wait for services," said Berube.

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested that council contact Tom Morrison of the CMHC to see if the housing project would in fact devalue other lots and existing homes in the subdivision. "A representative from the CMHC and the owner of the subdivision should be included in any discussion," he said. "We have to get the issue understood at the ground level."

Although Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas agreed that the developer should be contacted, he went on to observe, "the more houses we have the better it is for all concerned. We've worked long and hard to get this program into the area."

Reeve Lyle McKnight stressed the fact that the lot was taken by the municipality to pay for the costs of services to Highland Gate Estates. McKnight called for a special meeting to be held with the owner of the subdivision, residents, and the representative from the CMHC.

A date for the proposed special meeting has not yet been announced.

Scott gets PC nomination

by ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Victoria-Haliburton M.P. Bill Scott received the unanimous support of his riding association to remain as Conservative candidate in the upcoming election. Scott, who was unchallenged in his bid for the nomination, was officially declared as the Tory representative last Thursday at a meeting in Lindsay, attended by over 600 party members.

"I'm very happy with the results," Scott said in a telephone interview with the Echo. "I have the clear endorsement of the party membership."

Scott noted that the election date falling as it does at the end of the peak tourist season, will force him to alter the way in which he conducts his campaign. "There are so many non-residents here at this time of year," he remarked, adding that for more permanent residents, it is also their busiest time of year. Although Scott does not anticipate that he will have trouble recruiting volunteers to work on his re-election

Council received a letter delivered by hand from the Haliburton Kawartha Pine Ridge Health Unit dated June 29, 1984 advising council that a maintenance program was required at the Municipal Sludge Disposal Site. Council ruled that rehabilitation of the pit would be done as outlined in a previous letter from the Health Unit in the late part of 1983.

Council directed the road superintendent to prepare necessary data to call for tenders to rehabilitate the Municipal sludge disposal site as requested by the Ministry of the Environment and Haliburton Kawartha

Pine Ridge Health Unit in correspondence dated November 15, 1983.

Council approved payment of General Accounts in the amount of $1,031.38.

The clerk reported to council on how the various Boards were consolidated into the General Ledger as to accounts payable were being handled. responsibility to do so. (2) Such permits are available from the Dysart office without charge. (3) Council does not feel that many of the present Municipal Law Enforcement Officers are necessarily qualified to make recommendations as to how a building should be demolished, in addition, if they made recommendation to the best of their knowledge and an accident should occur where then would the liability rest? New cross country ski trail planned for coming season

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

Work on Minden's cross country ski trail could begin as early as next week, making the trail ready for the upcoming ski season. Construction of the trail, which has been delayed due to difficulties in securing clearances from private landowners, was given the go ahead last week when council agreed to have the trail follow existing road allowances.

Deputy Reeve Ed Pergolas, who heads the Parks Committee, said clearing of the new route will start as soon as a Katimavik crew is available. "I don't anticipate too much of a problem. Once we start there's no stopping us. The big thing is to get things started," he said.

"I'd just as soon stay on the concessions," said Reeve Lyle McKnight. "That way there's no worries and no agreements needed." McKnight added that as long as the concessions are appropriate for the trails he sees no reason to have the route pass over private property.

The decision to run the trail along existing allowances follows a study by the Parks Committee which found that the terrain of the concessions is suitable for cross country skiing. Work is set to begin at Beaver Creek, just north of the Beaverbrook Golf Course. The Katimavik crew will start preparing the trail by reducing the size of the hill located there.

Last month, a lawyer representing Dave Stevens, owner of the Beaverbrook Golf Course, offered to allow the municipality to use a section of the course for 10 years, with an option to renew for an additional 10 years providing no damage had been done to Stevens' property by skiers on the trail. An agreement with Stevens has not yet been finalized, however, the municipality does have his permission to use a strip of his property for the trails on a yearly basis.

Pergolas is optimistic, however, that a more permanent arrangement will soon be made between the golf course owner and council. "We have to start negotiating for a long term lease," he said, but added that it is still too early to predict the exact route the trail will eventually follow. "We're leaving all options open. We'll solve each problem as we go along," he said. "The big thing is that we get into the ski trail network."

Although it has now been established that the trail can be made along the concessions, Pergolas pointed out that spurs may be run off from the main trail where permission is given from land owners. As well, the trail may run over private property in certain sections if owners are willing to co-operate. "We might find it easier to go across someone's property who would like us to," Pergolas said.

The new ski trail is part of a plan for a Nordic ski trail that would cover a large section of Haliburton County. The trail network would be made possible through the construction of new trails as well as the linking up of existing cross country ski routes. The new Minden trail, when completed, will run from the Minden arena, along Beaver Creek and would then cut through bush and end up at the Scotch Line.

campaign, he did note that it may be hard to reach eligible voters. "At this time of year most are interested in their own businesses," he said.

Door-to-door canvassers will be used in some areas, but due to the size of the riding and the low density population, Scott said he will concentrate most of his efforts on the major centres and will make appearances at local summer carnivals and fairs.

Bruce Glass, a lawyer for Lindsay, will be running against Scott as the Liberal party candidate. A representative for the New Democratic Party has not been named.

Glass in race

Bruce Glass, Liberal candidate for Victoria and Haliburton, filed his official nomination papers on Wednesday, July 25. The ceremony, which confirmed Glass' candidacy, took place at the office of the District Returning Officer, John Bovie. Accompanying the candidate was his official agent, Irene Moore.

Glass, who is seeking office for the first time at the Federal level, was nominated by acclamation at the June 27 meeting of the riding Liberal Association. His major opponent in the election is the current sitting member, William Scott.

Following the signing, the 41 year old Glass was asked if he would agree to an all-candidate debate as suggested by the N.D.P. candidate in the riding. "I consider that suggestion as a direct challenge and I am happy to respond that I am available at any time for such a debate whether it be on radio, on television or in a public hall centrally located in the riding," he said. "I do not propose to debate just the N.D.P. candidate. In order to be meaningful, a debate must include all candidates."

These colourful Chinese flags were part of the spectacle of the Rotary parade in Minden last Wednesday. The group, who came from Toronto, were sponsored by the Dominion Hotel's China Village. They brought along drums, cymbals and the traditional dragon, which added to the fun.

They must claim their prize from the individual merchants.

Shoppers are urged to come dressed in night attire. The Echo

Adding to the liveliness of the evening will be the Highlands Dixie Band and barbershop quartet, who will play at a location on the main street.

All in all the fourth annual Midnight Madness Sale promises to be an exciting evening. Don't miss it.

Rotary carnival promises two days of excitement

The Rotary Carnival returns to Haliburton once again this week, bringing with it two days of fun and excitement for local residents and cottagers.

This year's carnival is set to kick off today (Wednesday) at 3 p.m. with the opening of the midway at the baseball field. Also planned for this first afternoon is the Haliburton Labatt's fun and fitness run. The run, which will cover a 10 kilometre course, will begin and end at the government docks and is scheduled to get underway at 4:30.

The festivities will continue in the evening with a "Monster Parade" down the main street of Haliburton, beginning at 7:30. The theme of this year's parade is 40 years of Rotary in Haliburton.

Beef on a bun will also be sold at the ball diamond for hungry spectators and a bingo is set to start at 8:00 in the Legion Hall.

In the curling rink, an arm wrestling competition will be held at 9:30 and a dance will also take place there, with the doors opening at 8:00.

Thursday, the carnival activities will begin at 2 p.m. with a double bubble blowing contest for kids near the horseshoe pits in Head Lake Park. Hats, prizes, and T-shirts will be awarded to the winning contestants.

A horseshoe tournament will also be held at the park on Thursday afternoon. Contestants must be registered for the event by August 1.

In the evening, crowds can listen to the music at the bandshell, beginning at 6:30. Starting at 7:00, the Labatt's Waterfront Aquatic Skishow will perform for onlookers at Head Lake Park.

The two day festival will be brought to a close Thursday night with a dance at the curling rink and the announcement of the winner of a new Chevrolet Camaro, the prize for this year's Rotary draw.

Opinions

As people who live in a free country, Canadians for the most part take for granted their right to express opinions, informed or otherwise, on virtually any topic they choose. Unfettered exchange of ideas and viewpoints is fundamental to the kind of society we cherish - a society that fosters individuality, promotes justice and strives to better the lives of all its members. Whether it's the discussion of yesterday's events over morning coffee, the lobby group's brief to government ministries, or the fiery rhetoric of political debate, expressing opinions is at the core of Canadian life.

Yet freedom to speak out is a rarer thing than many people realize. The majority of the world's citizens live under regimes which view dissenting opinion as a threat and resort to ruthless means to stamp it out. All the more reason then, that Canadians should guard and exercise their right to form and express their own opinions.

Newspapers, like citizens, have a right to speak out on the issues of the day through editorial columns. Many newspapers, including this one, go a step farther, believing that their freedom to report carries with it an obligation to try to make their communities better places. Inevitably, there are risks to this approach. It is not the safest or easiest course. And the smaller the community, the more likely it is that words will sting and tempers flare. Yet a newspaper which is not prepared to risk the wrath of local politicians, institutions and individuals is a newspaper which cheats its readers. It is a newspaper which not only accepts mediocrity, but which fosters it.

No doubt there are some readers of community newspapers who would not feel particularly deprived if editorial pages contained nothing but Pollyanna positiveness. Such readers may even be in the majority. But there are other people who recognize that change can only come about where there is a climate of ideas, and that public bodies are kept honest and constructive, at least in part by the scrutiny and criticism to which newspapers subject them. So the Echo will continue not only to report local news, but to comment forcefully and fearlessly on local issues. The opinions expressed on this page will never be more than one way of looking at a given set of facts or circumstances. There will always be room for other points of view. But readers can be certain that this newspaper will do all it can to make the community a better place, even if that means stepping on some toes. We don't think you'd want it any other way.

Well done

The news that the Seawind aircraft is now tantalizingly close to production, having passed flight tests from land and water, will be viewed with delight by the scores of local people who have backed the project and followed it with interest. Seawind's design and construction was an awesome project, fraught with setbacks, and its success has been won not by luck but by sheer determination and resourcefulness. Against overwhelming odds of failure, the Creelman family, and their supporters, have created an innovative and beautiful aircraft which seems destined to delight experimental aircraft builders around the world.

Seawind's success is proof that dreams can become reality, not by wishing but by sheer hard work.

Letters to the Editor

Editorial uncluttered by fact: reader

To The Editor:

Ahhh you clever fox Leonard. What a nose you have for news, and such a way with a story. Not to be confused with editorials that clutter themselves with fact, your latest brew goes straight for...for "perspective" I think you call it. The National Enquirer would be impressed.

After all, when an unnamed councillor for Anson, Hindon and Minden "advises" council to construct three buildings that have no legitimate use, and then a Boundary Information Centre is deliberately conceived to dispose of one of them and slap the Chamber of Commerce in the face to boot, well what's an Echo editor to do? Certainly not let the fact he was out of the country at the time stall him. And why check the record? All it would show is that three structures were approved by resolution of council as a $14,700 project to match a Federal grant awarded to the Minden BIA. Stuff and nonsense! And so what if the buildings were completed 20% under budget and purposely designed to be portable and able to be used for any number of community functions in addition to their original purpose as a Mini Fair extension of the Minden Farmers Market?

Obviously there's no story in that. Nor is there in the fact that the Boundary Information Centre is located on Highway 35 at the southern entrance to Haliburton County about sixteen miles from the Chamber of Commerce Welcome Centre. You are quite right. It makes better copy to say it lies near the border of Lutterworth and Minden, scant yards from the Chamber, so that the "slap in the face" can really be put in perspective. And why bother to visit the Boundary Information Centre before writing the story? Then an editor would be forced to see a sixty-four square foot map of the entire county welcoming visitors to the Highlands. Not to mention literature that was received from the Chamber of Commerce itself.

No, I take my hat off to you Leonard. You give new meaning to the term investigative-journalism. I mean 25 cents is a hefty price for a phone call that would only confirm a letter that has been on file with the Chamber of Commerce since February, 1984. A letter from the Boundary Information Centre that suggests a meeting to coordinate all the information centres of the county to better promote the Highlands. A letter that was never answered. A meeting that sadly was never held. Then there's the matter of a discussion held by AHM council on a February 9, 1984 regular meeting (and recorded in the minutes) that centred on ways the Municipality and the Boundary Information Centre could cooperate with the Chamber to the benefit of the whole county.

No editorial punch in that though. It was a far better touch you had for the dramatic when you issued the summary conviction that AHM and Lutterworth are saying (through the Boundary Information Centre), "that the Chamber was not doing a good job. That the Chamber is not worth supporting". You're right on target. What other reason could people have for constructing an information centre? After all, it couldn't possibly be to augment the information booths in Cardiff, Haliburton Village and at the Chamber offices. There is only one million acres involved and those three county information booths should be enough to cover that paltry area. The interest in a "small number of businesses that lie south of Minden" is a drop in the bucket you imply, and you're right again! Especially when figured against the pre-ordained destiny of this county's (how do you put it?) "cultural, business, and geographical centre" at Head Lake.

What I don't understand though, Leonard, is the golden opportunity you missed to insist that it's the old Minden/Haliburton rivalry behind it all again. But wait. That would have been predictable eh? Better to use allegory. The Boundary Information Centre instead of Minden, the Chamber instead of Haliburton Village. What genius, what an inspired ghost story. Leonard, you're one of a kind.

How time does fly and it's hard to believe that another year has passed and that we are just days away from Haliburton's fourth Midnight Madness Sale. Yes, this coming Friday night is the night when the Haliburton County Echo, along with participating merchants, will be presenting the annual Midnight Madness Sale from 10 p.m. to midnight. During these fabulous two hours the participating merchants will throw open their doors and present to you bargains like you have never seen before. How can you ever forget last year when hundreds of people made their way into the village of Haliburton to take advantage of the bonanza of bargains that were being offered? Yes, there were bargains all over town with lineups in most cases trying to get into the stores. They will be doing the same thing this Friday night again and I know you won't want to miss the excitement. To add to the festivities a local dixieland band and a barber shop quartet will be on hand for the two hours for your listening pleasure. It's an evening with a two hour shopping spree where you have the opportunity to save money on many items. This evening also gives you the opportunity to meet and talk with friends and neighbours, some of whom you have not seen for some time. In other words it is a night out on the town when you cannot only pick up a great many bargains but you can have a great time to boot.

Midnight Madness night also takes you back to what some like to call the good old days when everyone came to town on Saturday night to shop and then sit around and visit with their friends. Included in this week's issue of the Haliburton County Echo is the Midnight Madness Supplement with a list of all the participating merchants and their individual advertisements of all the bargains and low prices they will have to offer. Friday night, as you are well aware, is an open night for most stores, as they are open until 9 p.m. They will close for an hour to give the staff a breather, get out their specials and get ready to open again at 10 p.m. with fantastic bargains right up until midnight. Once the Haliburton County Echo will be offering special rates on subscriptions. Drop down to see us at the Echo office and take advantage of our half price subscription sale on new and renewal subscriptions. Be here when the doors open at 10 p.m. Remember those long line-ups last year.

Just a reminder here that the Ralls' End Gallery are presenting a Gala Art Auction at the Pinestone Inn and Country Club this coming Saturday, August 4.

They say that the day of the fair is the day to be there and tonight's the night (Wednesday, August 1) for the beginning of the two day annual Haliburton Rotary Club Summer Carnival. The big event kicks off tonight with a gala parade and I would like to remind you that it's not too late to get your float ready for the parade. This year's parade theme is 40 years of Rotary in Haliburton. The big event will be continuing on tomorrow afternoon and evening (Thursday). The two days will feature plenty of activities for both young and old with a midway, fun and fitness run, beef barbecue on a bun, monster parade, two dances, bingo, arm wrestling, double bubble blowing contest for kids, horseshoe tournament, outdoor music at the band shell, Labatt's Waterfront Aquatic Ski Show and a car draw. See you there.

Three visitors from KinArk (formerly Brown-dale) attended a recent meeting of the Rotary Club of Haliburton. John Miller introduced the speaker, Alan Vallilee who explained their move to Durham Region and presented the new Haliburton programme. This programme will commence in September, 1984 under the direction of Malcolm Savage with funds of $250,000.

Friends of Monty Robson of Fenelon Falls, Ontario will be sorry to learn that he suffered a heart attack recently and is convalescing at his home at Fenelon Falls. His many friends in the area wish him a speedy recovery.

The Ontario Sailing Association is offering a weekend of board sailing lessons on August 25 and 26 at Head Lake at a cost of $40. Anyone who is interested is asked to please call Pam Iles at 457-1740.

The Rotary Club of Haliburton, at a recent meeting, approved the amount of $400 for CGIT uniforms and $225 for the Drug and Alcohol Abuse group.

A large number of people from all sections of Haliburton County attended the Stanhope Fun Day held at the community centre on the North Shore Road on Saturday.

Just a reminder that Gooderham Horseshoe Days will be held this Friday, Saturday and Sunday, August 3, 4 and 5, at the Glamorgan Township Community Centre. Something for all members of the family at Gooderham this weekend.

The clean up that has just recently been made at the river bank behind the Drag River Municipal Building is a definite improvement to that area. The next time you are down that way just take a look and see for yourself. The new picnic tables that have been painted a bright yellow have also added a great deal of colour to Head Lake Park.

Pic of the Past

This picture represents an historic link with the Second World War. In the photo Emil Neiman is standing on top of square timbers which were cut at C.W. Hodgson's Lumber Mill at Haliburton Lake. These timbers were especially picked to be used in the building of corvettes which were designed to escort convoys across the Atlantic, and patrol the Canadian coastline. Many of this represents another connection to Haliburton. Al Hunter of Haliburton held an important position at these shipyards. The Hunters originally lived at Eagle Lake. When Al Hunter moved to Haliburton, he and W.R. Curry had a business partnership which later became William Baker's Blacksmith's Shop (located where the Pentecostal Church now stands).

These Corvettes, which cost $700,000 to build, were 200 feet long and 33 feet wide. They carried a four-inch machine gun, depth charges, and a crew of 70 men. Photo submitted by Tom Hodgson of Oshawa, Ontario.

Question

By CATHERINE DENHOLM

Why are so many innocent people killed?

Is there a connection between the violence seen on television, in movies, in video film and pornographic magazines and the violent happenings which occur every day in all parts of this country?

The people making millions out of such films and magazines tell us there is no connection. This group who sell violence and pornography say that it is entertainment and everybody has a right to see what they want to see. They say their films are for adults with mature minds who watch the stuff with pleasure and are not affected by it in any way.

The sad fact is that for every thousand or ten thousand who can watch such films and remain essentially themselves there is someone whose mind is triggered - who is goaded into a rampage.

Even the mature-minded adults are affected by what they watch or there would be no advertising on T.V. The best and high-priced advertising agencies are hired to write commercials. They pay top wages for professionals to act in them. They travel the world over to get the right background for them. Then the whole thing is squeezed into 30 seconds. If that 30 seconds is aired a few times each day it will influence people to buy that product. That small amount of time will sell enough to pay for the whole advertising shot and make a profit as well. If commercials have that much effect on the people who watch them it stands to reason that the other shows on T.V. will change attitudes also.

There is another danger. Watching violence makes one used to violence. The shock wears off. The more often a gun is shot and a death occurs the less terrible that act becomes. Watching violence dehumanizes.

There are also those who say violence seen now in films and so on cannot be responsible for our troubled society because there have always been such things available. Down the back street in a smoke-filled bar men have always watched such things and now that they can have the films and magazines in their own homes they say it is much healthier. In the smoke-filled bar days the numbers were limited. There was no danger that young people and children were watching in the background. Healthy is not a word I associate with hate, mayhem, shooting and cruelty in the family living room.

Even if we do not watch or buy or read such trash we are affected by it because of the increase in violence and in our society.

The government is starting to take some steps to contain pornography. It would leap if people wrote the Minister of Communications, the T.V. station or the store whenever they saw material which they felt was a danger to impressionable minds.

It should never be necessary to have censorship in a democratic country. Unfortunately there may be no alternative.

Queen's Park Report

Last week I released a statement to the effect that Ontario's municipalities continue to suffer financial losses as a result of the provincial government's failure to provide compensation to local governments for the extra costs incurred as a result of gravel extraction operations in their municipalities.

As far back as December 1976, the Ontario Mineral Aggregate Working Party concluded in their report "A Policy for Mineral Aggregate Resource Management in Ontario" that "funding for such local municipalities from the industry are in fact inadequate" and recommended that an annual licence fee be established for all licensed gravel operators and that 50 per cent of that fee be paid to the local municipality in which the operation is located to cover "the real cost of the industry to the local municipalities."

The New Aggregate Act introduced in the Legislature by the Minister of Natural Resources in June 1979 would have provided for the establishment of a six cents per tonne licence fee for gravel operators, four cents of which would be paid to municipalities as compensation for road maintenance and other costs resulting from quarry operations.

However, this legislation was withdrawn by the government prior to the 1981 provincial election and was never re-introduced.

Contrary to the statement of the Minister of Natural Resources on March 4, 1982 that "I plan to introduce the New Act in the legislature this spring, and I am confident that it will be passed this year," no such legislation to bring this aggregate levy into effect has yet been introduced.

Because of government inaction, Ontario municipalities continue to be denied funds that could be used to defray some of the costs of constructing and maintaining roads used as gravel hauling routes.

For example, in Manvers Township alone which is located in our riding, the amount of this non-renewable resource which was extracted in 1983 amounted to 1.66 million tonnes. This gravel represents a potential loss in revenue to the Township of $66,400, of which the Township has yet to receive one cent. The Township has passed a resolution asking the Minister of Natural Resources that a gravel levy be introduced.

The provincial government must not delay the introduction of this levy any longer. The time for action to be taken on this matter is long overdue.

County will consider a by-law that would regulate the size and design of signs on County roads. Terrific!

I would like to bring to your attention and must complain in the strongest terms regarding the glut of advertising signs appearing along Highway 35 from Moore Lake to Minden.

Admittedly this is a Provincial Highway, however, perhaps County council can use its influence to have something done about it and/or have the Ministry of Transportation and Communications regulations amended.

In this 20 mile stretch, there are about three dozen signs, a very irritating and offensive welcome to Haliburton County.

Apparently field advertising signs are permitted on MTC's right-of-way via a change in policy that was implemented about two years ago to assist the tourist industry. Some signs are side by side and many have nothing to do with tourism. As MTC regulations allow one sign every 1,000 feet, pray tell me where will it end? Do we have to spend the rest of our lives looking at these blurs on the landscape? Can we look forward to 105 signs in this 20 mile stretch?

We have no objection to a "location sign", that is, an advertising sign that is permitted on the same property as that on which the business is being conducted.

Our objection is to the "field advertising signs" which pop up like mushrooms on the lawn.

Yours very truly,
J.G. Strickland

To The Editor:

I do not write to editors very often but I feel I have something that must be said. Recently it was decided by some doctors that I should go to Toronto to a very large teaching hospital, one of the best for me, for an angiogram on my heart. I arrived at said hospital and was admitted at 11:30 p.m., Monday, July 2. Put to bed, I was pushed, pulled, pinched and stuck and shaved and many other unpleasant things. I got no sleep at all day or night; the halls were noisier than the local bar on Saturday night. Doctors, nurses and sundry other people prowled the marble floored halls all night with either wooden soles or steel cleats on their boots. Nurses shouted at each other and a looney across the hall was shouting and causing a commotion at all hours. There was no possibility of sleep. Visiting hours seemed to be at any hour with as many visitors as possible crowded into rooms. To me it seemed like a mad house, not a place for sick people. I wonder what happened to 'Hospital Zone, Quiet Please'.

After the test was over on Wednesday, July 4 I was informed of the results and sent home on Thursday, July 5. On arriving home on Friday, July 6 I was told to report to Haliburton Hospital, as the hospital in Toronto had notified the doctor in Haliburton that I was full of Strep bacteria and required treatment with antibiotics for a period of 28 days. So much for your great large wonderful Toronto teaching hospital. All I can say is that I thank God that I escaped Toronto and was able to spend my 28 days in the Red Cross Hospital in Haliburton, where I was treated like a human person, with care, compassion, tenderness and love. I am sure the nurses at that hospital in Haliburton must love humanity to be able to work the way they do and put up with things you wouldn't believe. I believe we are the luckiest people in the world to have a hospital of this calibre and the wonderful angels for nurses. Also the support staff are the best I have seen and are always cheery and have a kind word for everyone.

Last but not least I have had some dealing with most of the doctors associated with this hospital and I feel we are extremely lucky to have such competent men and women at our disposal. I thank you with all my heart. You are all super novas in an otherwise very black sky.

Yours respectfully,
Cliff Skelding

To The Editor:

I read with interest the well written letter by Mrs. Schutte-Holt. I have been thinking along those same lines.

We quite often go up to our local park to get some sunshine and fresh air, and so often some child is being spanked and crying. It is very upsetting. Just recently I remarked to my husband that I wondered how many of these mothers take the time to have Bible reading and prayer with their children. When we were children we had family worship every morning led by our grandfather who lived with us. I wish we could get back to this again. In my opinion families need to worship together if we want to have Christian homes.

Sincerely,
Florence Robinson

To The Editor:

We would like to comment on the letter your paper received from Sharron L. Davis of Bramalea, Ontario. We have been going to Danny's ever since he opened three summers ago. The food is the best and the service is the fastest we've seen for a take out. We have 18 children between us and many of them are at Danny's every night he is open. If this did happen, it must have been a busy time for Danny and his staff with a line-up of people waiting. Danny and his wife Sue always have a few words and a smile for the teenagers and animal cookies for our babies. We the undersigned don't believe it fair to judge Danny and condemn a fine Snack Bar for the purpose of a glass of water, when it could have been asked for when they ordered the ice cream cones like the rest of us do.

Thank you for the space in your paper.

Runners tested in 'Yard'

Toronto man leads field of 340 competitors

A Toronto man was the first across the finish line in the annual Heineken Yard road race in Minden last Friday, beating out close to 300 other competitors. John Craig of the Toronto Olympic Club completed the 4.5 mile race in a time of 22:05, seven seconds off the record pace set last year by Greg Lockhart, also of the Toronto Olympic Club.

Second place overall went to Roger Cawkwell of the Brooks Racing Team who crossed the finish line on Minden's main street seven seconds behind Craig. Andy Zeltkans of the Toronto Olympic Club was third in 22:20.

The heat took its toll on many of the racers, who pushed themselves to the brink of exhaustion over the relatively short and flat course from Camp Onondaga to downtown Minden. Most of the participants were recreational runners who finished well off the pace of the elite runners, but who got no less pleasure out of the accomplishment.

The first woman across the finish line was Donna Sawchyn of Downsview whose time of 29:23 was four minutes slower than the record pace set last year by Sue French, a member of Canada's Olympic team at Los Angeles.

Finishing second in the open women's category was Christine McLean of the Bradford Harriers with a time of 29:32. Third was Jane Savage of West Hill in 30:04.

The master men's division title was won by Robert Moore of the Toronto Olympic Club who finished in a time of 23:45. Barry Loesher of Toronto was second among the master men in 25:23. Finishing third was Fred Clemmer of Toronto Olympic in 25:30.

Winner of the master women's division was Ina MacIntosh of the Longboat Road Runners in 29:18. Second was Helen Marnberg, also of the Longboat club, in 31:36. Suzanne Quartermain of Markham was third in 34:21.

Among the junior men, Aaron Crangle was first in 27:05, Andy Barnard second in 28:44, and Andrew Matheson third in 29:51.

The junior women's division was won by Dianne Wiseman of Scarborough in 31:56. Second was Miranda DePencier in 32:41. Third place went to Kathryn Ireson in 33:05.

The top 10 men finishers were John Craig,

More than 340 runners left the starting line at Camp Onondaga near Minden on Friday afternoon to compete in the Heineken Yard road race, one of the most popular summer events in Haliburton County. Almost everyone who set out finished the 4.5 mile course.

Donna Sawchyn was the first woman to finish the Heineken Yard race this year, crossing the finish line on Minden's main street in a time of 29:23.

John Craig of Toronto was the first across the finish line in this year's Heineken Yard road race, in a time of 22:05, seven seconds behind last year's record pace.

Haliburton Lumber in front, Kinsmen, Beachli remain tied Haliburton Lumber is in first place in the Haliburton men's recreational fastball league with a record of nine wins and four losses as of last week.

Haliburton Kinsmen and Beachli Construction are tied for second place, two games off the pace with a seven and seven record.

Curry Motors trails the field with four wins and nine losses.

The Lumbermen came up with another victory last Tuesday to keep their lead intact, outpointing Curry Motors 5-1 in the night's first game, while in the second matchup, Beachli Construction blasted the Kinsmen 15-4.

Lumbermen vs. Curry Motors
The Lumbermen opened the scoring in the bottom of the first inning with a three run homer by Dwight Sisson that also scored Dave Nicholls and Bernie Nicholls.

Curry Motors replied with one in the top of the second inning when Neilson Sisson came home after walking to first and stealing other bases. But the Lumbermen closed the door on Curry Motors hitters at that point.

The only other scoring in the game came in the bottom of the fifth inning when Bernie Nicholls singled and was driven across on a sacrifice fly by Dwight Sisson. Rob Dennys also scored after walking and stealing a base.

The game went a full six and a half innings, but three quick outs in the top of the seventh ended Curry Motors' chances of coming back.

Beachli outlasts Kinsmen
The crack of the bat was heard a great deal in Tuesday night's second game, as Beachli Construction blasted 15 runs in, while holding the Kinsmen team to only four runs.

The builders opened with four runs in the top of the first when Darrell Stamp connected for a two RBI single that brought in Bob Johnston and Mike MacNaull. Stamp scored on a follow up single by John Robinson, and a single by Doug Rupay brought Robinson across for the fourth run.

The Kinsmen replied with three in the bottom of the first to keep the contest a close one at that point. Brian Mulholland and Vince Du-

Viceroy's beat Gravenhurst

The Minden Viceroy's soccer team came up with a 3-2 win in a game against Gravenhurst last Tuesday.

It was a closely matched contest, and the Viceroy's win came as a result of a solid team effort.

Justin Gentle opened the scoring for Minden with help from Chris Holliday-Rhodes. Colin McKnight got the Viceroy's second goal on a pass from Justin Gentle.

With the score tied and less than a minute left to play, Colin McKnight netted the winner for Minden.

Monday night the team was scheduled to travel to Little Britain.

Trent Severn News

On Monday, July 23 the Haliburton Lakes of the Trent-Severn contained some 88.8% of their maximum storage. This was about 11% more than the long term average and the largest amount for the date since 1980. With only a small decline from the previous week and some surplus still remaining on the Kawartha Lakes the situation still appears abundant.

Without need for the large amounts of this water to replace downstream evaporation, only modest flows have been run so far this summer. A wet autumn such as in 1980, could hamper efforts to discharge the remaining water in time to prevent exposure of Lake Trout spawn. For this reason in the next few weeks a somewhat larger flow will be run to get the percentage closer to normal. This should not produce a drastic lowering, but a more normal decline rate to reduce potential problems in the fall.

Nothing came across for either side in the second inning, but in the top of the third the builders exploded for eight runs to put the game out of reach. Scoring were Doug Rupay, Kelly Mitchell, Erin Nicholls, Kevin Finch, Bob Johnston, Mike MacNaull, Tony Salvatore and John Robinson.

The Kinsmen got one more in the bottom of the fourth as Carl Anderson made the circuit, aided by Brian Mulcircuit, aided by a Brian Mulholland double.

Darrell Stamp added another for Beachli Construction in the top of the fifth after a single.

The builders got two more in the top of the seventh from Stamp and John Robinson to

Dixie Lee tops Bracebridge, team hoping for more wins

By JIM MILNE

The Dixie Lee soccer team earned an important win against Bracebridge Centennials 4-0 in Minden last Sunday. Centennials have only one win this season from a game they played against Dixie Lee in May. They could only get 10 players out to the game while the home team had a full complement of 14.

Dixie Lee used three fast forwards for most of the game and the three Minden boys worked well together. Tim Davies scored three goals and Terry Crowe got one. Mike Hatoski had a number of chances but sent the ball wide. Using four midfielders Dixie Lee was able to switch quickly from offence to defence. The Haliburton defence also played well, particularly Harvey Williams who heads the ball accurately and courageously.

Perhaps this convincing win will set the team up for two tough games next Sunday away against Huntsville and the following Sunday at home against Parry Sound. The Huntsville game on August 5 starts at 3:00 p.m. The local players would like at least one win in the five remaining games to equal last year's points total but their best chances will come later in August against Bracebridge Junior and Orillia City. Dixie Lee must get past its next two games with enthusiasm still high to realize their potential. The team would like to move past the Bracebridge Junior and Orillia City if possible into sixth place in the nine team league.

The team will practise in Minden on Thursday at 7:00 p.m. They were pleased to find Ariel Bellosillo of West Guilford. He refereed the most recent game and will be a big asset for the league in the remaining games and perhaps the high school soccer in the fall.

School days...School daze...

Took my brain out of moth balls last week, shook out the cobwebs and sent it to school. After 27 years, it was quite a shock. One forgets how long you have to sit still, concentrate and produce, on paper, some semblance of proof of your intellect.

But it was also stimulating and gratifying, to discover that someone from the writing world found some promise in my doodlings.

On the other hand, being away from home every day put a bit of a strain on the farm. The hens laid off because someone else was gathering eggs. (not that they love me, the stupid birds) The cats were not catered to as willingly, and the dog was badly in need of brushing by the end of the week. But for the most part, with everyone pitching in, things went reasonably smoothly.

School was great fun. Being a small class, we all go to know each other's experiences, and hopes. The teacher did a good job of awakening our thinking process, and also made us write without thinking, which produced surprisingly readable results. When the week was over, I felt that I had only scratched the surface. My mind is hungering for more, though, I could never go back to school full-time. It's far too much of a strain. In other words, I was pooped!

Saturday morning, I took a quick look-see at the garden. Whew! Talk about you disasters. There, amongst the knee-high weeds, were two past ripe broccolis, some very fat peas, and ten ripe cucumbers. (I really don't want to make pickles today)

But I've learned. I've learned I haven't read enough, I don't know anything about Canadian literature. I need to edit some of the excess baggage coming from my pen. In other words, I've learned I have a lot to learn. Haliburton library, here I come!

This scale model of a lumber mill was powered by a small steam engine, and delighted spectators in Dorset on Saturday with its ability to saw small pieces of wood into scale sized dimension lumber. The demonstration was part of Pioneer Days in the community.

Guild News

by VIRGINIA MUENZEL

This Saturday, August 4, at the PineStone Inn and Country Club, the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts presents one of the highlights of the summer season. The Art Auction, with John Leonard.

A preview of art to be shown and sold that night will take place from 2 to 4 p.m. Come in and browse around.

At 7 to 8 p.m., there will be a silent auction of smaller items. If you've never been to one, you must experience it. The pieces of artwork are on display next to a list where interested parties may sign their name and offer their bid. The bids of course, must increase. And the last person on the list gets the piece. Among items to be offered in the silent auction, will be paintings, pottery, jewellery, fabric pieces, etc.

The bidding auction begins at 8:30 p.m. Included, will be paintings and drawings by prominent artists, some of them local residents.

Artists to be featured are Michael Dumas, John Leonard, a Tricia Romance print, Debbie Bates, Ed Cronk, Christine Wilson, Chuck O'Neil, Sheila Maki, and many others.

Come, join the excitement, as people try to outbid each other for the desired art works. For more information, call 457-2330.

Hope you had a chance to see the fun fashion show at the high school last Friday. Marilyn Brooks' fashion design class of 26 students, split up into four separate "companies" and created a collection of amazing ensembles. Especially, considering they had only four days to create it. Of course, as last year, the show was highlighted by Lois Betteridge's silversmithing class, with their "Camp" designs featuring beach towels, and clothespins. The whole affair was great fun.

Well readers, we're starting another week here at Hyland Crest, and to tell you all that happened, I'll do my very best.

Lily Hogg had relatives come on Saturday. They stayed and dined with her before they went away.

Lola Prentice had relatives from Montana. They went on a trip to Algonquin Park. There isn't much to see there anymore, no matter how far you push, everything is going up to bush.

Edna Cowen had callers on Sunday. Mrs. Stutt had callers, and I'm sure others did too. It was a busy weekend all the way through. My family came and took me for a drive, then out to dine.

Another interesting service was held in the chapel Sunday night. Harold and Ruth Thompson were there. Harold read the lesson, Ruth played the music and led in prayer. Rev. Burgess took his interesting message from Psalms 103.

Heather Bowran, who belongs to the fellowship ministry, with headquarters at Colorado Springs, is holidaying with her parents, Ken and Jean Bowran. Much pleasure for them she brings. Now Heather is getting all keyed up in high gear, for she is returning to her group this weekend for another year.

We will have Carl Duggan

A rare chance to study with top designer

By ELIZABETH CHURCH
Staff Reporter

London, New York and Paris may be the centres of world fashion, but last week Haliburton was the place to find Marilyn Brooks, one of Canada's most renowned fashion designers. Brooks came to Haliburton to conduct a week long course in fashion design at the Haliburton School of Fine Arts.

"I had never taught before I came to Haliburton," says Brooks, who is conducting her course at the school for the second year in a row. "I just got a phone call asking me to come and I decided that it might be fun." "Originally I had planned to be an art teacher," she adds.

During her week of instruction, Brooks likes to introduce her students to different types of design. "I talk about trends and colours, about current design and what's going to happen," she says. "Basically I teach them to look, think and feel like a designer."

Although Brooks says she enjoys conducting the course, she points out that the pace of the one week schedule can be quite grueling. "It takes a lot of energy to teach 25 people," she says. "I want them to leave with ideas and enthusiasm. I want it to be a week well worth the money."

Due to her own commitments and the responsibilities involved in operating her own business, the week in Haliburton is the only opportunity available for students to benefit from her experience. "A week is really all the time I have," she explains. "I'd like to come up here for a week just to take a course myself, but it just isn't possible."

The rare chance to study with Brooks has attracted a wide range of students to her course. Some are teachers looking for new ideas for their classes; others manage their own small businesses; still others are just interested in sewing. "Last year my students ranged in age from 14 to 70. This year I also have students from 14 to 70," says Brooks.

To accommodate the various styles and tastes of her students, Brooks has developed a system in which students are divided into four groups or "companies", with each group choosing their own look and direction.

Once students have chosen a group, Brooks helps them to develop a logo, compile a press release and draw the garments they will be making. "I bring the fabric, but I send them down to the village to find all they can to add to their look," she says.

As well as designing and sewing one or two garments, Brooks also teaches students how to market their creations and "cost out" their projects. "It's important to know how to price a garment so that you're not working for $2 an hour and also so that you don't price yourself right out of the market," she says. Brooks, who has a degree in Business Administration, in addition to a degree from the Ontario College of Art, says she tries to stress the financial, as well as the creative, aspects of design.

Once companies have been formed and books balanced, students are then faced with the task of staging their own fashion show for the school at the conclusion of the week. "I think it's important that they learn to work under pressure and to produce to a deadline," says Brooks. She also notes that the show at the end of the course enables students to gain some experience in modeling their own clothes and presenting their work. "Now you can all go home and run your own shows," she tells her students at the end of the final class.

Brooks, who began her career as a display artist, became directly involved in fashion in the early 1960's when she opened a series of boutiques in Canada and in San Francisco. In 1975, she opened the first of five boutiques under her own name.

Brooks will return to Haliburton in September to speak at a meeting of the Ontario Crafts Council. She is also currently involved in the planning of her own annual fashion show to be held this fall in Toronto.

A fun day for all in Stanhope

Stanhope's annual Fun Day once again lived up to its name, with games, exhibits and entertainment for all who attended. Co-operation from the weather and a full slate of activities resulted in a large turnout of local residents to take part in the event.

The day got off to a colourful start with a fancy dress parade for both children and adults. Carnations were presented to Tracy Cann, Jamie Brown, Kristine Millbury, Cathy Brown and Ruby Schmidt for their participation in this event.

Following the parade, two rather mischievous clowns rounded up children and parents to take part in a variety of races. Kristine Millbury was the first to cross the finish line in the race for children under five, while Jennifer Foley took the first place ribbon for children under seven. In the eight to ten category, Darrel Perry placed first and Craig Bain was the winner of the 11 to 13 division. Odie DuMaurier was the fastest in the 14 and older division.

As well as races for the children, parents were also involved in the action as they teamed up with their sons and daughters for the parent and child race. In this event, Warren and Natasha Morril of Shriber, Ontario captured first.

A horseshoe tournament was held as part of the morning's events, and like all the activities, it attracted a large number of contestants.

Just when a few stomachs were beginning to grumble, the Stanhope firemen served up beef on a bun, complete with all the trimmings and for those interested in something sweeter, the Maple Lake United Church bake sale had cookies, tarts and pies to satisfy all tastes.

beef on a bun, the Stanhope fire-fighters also attracted a large audience for their demonstration. Within minutes of arriving at the site of a burning car, the firemen had extinguished the blaze with foam.

During the afternoon proud owners had a chance to put their best pets in the spotlight in the annual dog show. Prizes were awarded in a number of unusual categories, including the most spots, the longest, shortest and curliest tail, and the largest and smallest dogs. A prize was also given to the best dressed dog in the show.

Saberne Prate was once again on hand this year to put on an impressive demonstration of his model rockets. The Highland Country Dancers gave a special performance at the seniors' tea and an art exhibit in the Stanhope Library also attracted a number of interested viewers. A large Bicentennial cake, baked by Ann Barker along with 27 local children was also on display in the firemen's hall.

The big winner of the day in the draw for a side of beef was Kathy Daniels of Minden who bought the ticket with the winning number.

The fun concluded on Saturday evening with a Bicentennial dance at the Stanhope Community Centre.

sometimes appear downright impossible. It's much easier to just assume that things will go from bad to worse, no matter what you do, and then sit back and wait to be proven right.

But it's election time and politicians know that the acid rain issue is big enough to help or hurt their campaigns. That gives individuals like you and me one of the best openings we'll ever get to really push for commitments to immediate action from all those who aspire to govern.

Politicians already know they have a mandate to act. Countless newspaper editorials, letters and even a recent Gallup poll commissioned by the largest citizens coalition ever, the Canadian Coalition on Acid Rain, show overwhelming public support for clean-up programs. But aside from blaming the problem on the Americans and repeating their vague agreement to cut emissions by 50% by 1994, governments in Ottawa and Toronto have taken little concrete action so far. So the Coalition is urging concerned citizens to ask some pointed questions of local candidates and all three party leaders.

Regarding clean-up at the giant INCO facility in Sudbury, it is important to ask candidates what share of the costs of installing new smelting technology their party promises to provide, if it forms the next government. Here are a few pointers. Federal and provincial environment ministers agree that reduced emissions are needed from the present ceiling of 1700 tonnes per day. The new technology needed is called

"Roast Reduction Smelting" and recent studies project its installation costs at more than $400 million dollars. INCO's presently weak financial position means that, one way or another, some form of Government assistance will be required. The Coalition's cross-Canada Gallup poll showed that 65% of respondents would approve of the Ontario Government, Federal Government and INCO sharing these costs equally.

Concerning nitrogen oxides, a million tonnes of which spew out of Canada's car exhausts every year, the question is, will the candidates support the immediate lowering of Canada's auto emission standard from 3.1 grams per mile to the American standard of 1 gram per mile. Consider that nitrogen oxides account for as much as 50% of our acid rain problem, damage our lungs, as well as forming ozone, a pollutant known to afflict agricultural crops and forests. It's also worth noting that most cars manufactured in Canada are designed for the American market, so there is no costly re-tooling of our plants needed to meet the American standard. And the United Auto Workers support the lower standard, expecting no job loss. Both Federal Transport and Environment Ministers have said they want to adopt the American standard. But they haven't set a timetable.

Now is the best time to send Ottawa a message. Further information can be obtained from the Canadian Coalition on Acid Rain, 112 St. Clair Avenue West, #504, Toronto, Ontario M4V 2Y3 (416) 968-2135.

daughter to lunch with her Tuesday noon. We watched interesting movies in the afternoon.

No pastor came to take the service in the chapel this Tuesday. We had a nice little service anyway. Marion Rose came with music to play. Doris led us in a sing song, and did a good job too.

Living next door down we have a jolly pair. We told you last week how alive they were. Now Lily's complaining about getting too fat. I told her that soon she could put an end to that; just run around the block three times or four, then she wouldn't be troubled with fat anymore. They have company most every day, that is if they haven't gone away.

Tuesday night is music night but no musicians came. We don't know the mix up if anyone is to blame. On the harmonica I played a tune or two; that is really the best that anyone could do.

Mrs. Alice Voicoy is donating ice cream to all residents here, in memory of James Voicoy who liked ice cream on his birthday, this 26th day of July. If just seemed like a dream. We think this was a really nice thing to do. What about you readers, don't you think so too?

Dave and Marilyn Congdon with daughter Tracey visited Dave's mother, Edna Cowen over the weekend. By the way their son Neil is spending a weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Stamp. He comes down to see his grandmother every day.

We had no float in the carnival parade Wednesday night, here at Hyland Crest. To decorate our bus instead, some thought it best. The pair who undertook to do the job were Serina Tilley and Chantel McKnight. They worked so hard to accomplish this and did the job just right. They thought they had it made, they decided to dress up as bride and groom and walk in the parade. This they did and looked so fine, I don't think they won anything, not even a dime.

The ladies from Harcourt Chapel came Thursday afternoon, along with two gentlemen. They brought along a most delicious lunch. We hope they'll come again. They played and we sang some good hymns. There was a birthday cake for those who had birthdays in July. We had a real social time together. We're sorry they had to start back in stormy weather.

Friday afternoon our entertainers came and told us to remember that they were on holiday until September.

Don't be afraid to talk to yourself. It is a good way to find out what you think.

THE HALIBURTON COUNTY ECHO AND MINDEN RECORDER

Kinmount Korner

By MILLIE MOSS

It has been busy around this old town of late. Tuesday night, July 24, a beaver dam gave way and did lots of damage to Highway 121, lawns, trees, brush and anything that got in its way. Water rushed across the road and right through Ernie and Vivian Anderson's driveway. The highway crews, I'm told, worked all night clearing the mess and were still working hard on Wednesday. A goodly portion of roadway will have to be replaced. While all this was going on, I was at Vi Gammon's house and upon leaving, I heard a scream of brakes followed by a crash. When we arrived at the scene, near the foot of the hill north of Howland Junction Road, Steve Stata's car was on the road, its back end smashed in. A pickup truck had damaged to its front end and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Freeman were climbing back into their car. They had been waiting for Steve to turn into a driveway. I was told that a little boy from the truck had an injured shoulder. Earlier the same day an accident involving three cars occurred near the laundromat. I don't know too much about that one at this time. Then, I was in at Clara and Ambrose Watson's house where Flo Schlosser was visiting. Thursday, July 26 being Clara's birthday, Flo had stopped in and given Clara a Provincial Lottery ticket for her birthday. Upon opening the ticket, Clara became richer by $500. Some birthday present! Congratulations and happy birthday to Clara Watson.

Best wishes and happy days ahead to Candy Bowman who will be married in St. James Anglican Church, Kinmount, Saturday, July 28.

Happy birthday to John and Betty Lonsdale.

The St. James salad supper went off very well. Thanks to all who helped in any way and to all who attended.

Winner of $19 in the Kinmount Legion 50/50 draw was a visitor, Joan Kay from Manchester, England.

Recent visitors at the home of Dora and Bill Lilley included Mr. and Mrs. Arthur King of Welland, Mr. and Mrs. John Stenaford of Beeton, Wayne and Carol Smith of Georgetown, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Bailey of Chateaugay, Quebec, and Jerry Smith with his family from Orangeville.

Joan and Ken Hyams had dinner at the home of Betty and John Lonsdale Wednesday, July 25. Also present were Louise and Don Williams from Kent, England, who have been visiting with the Lonsdales. Betty and Louise are sisters.

If you have a little boy missing a shoe and a sock you will find them at the Kinmount Post Office.

Sympathy to all family and friends of Leslie Puterbaugh, who died last week. Interment was at Bailey Cemetery at Head Lake.

Shawne Monahan, age 12, is quite the young lady. She came by plane, by herself, to visit her grandfather, Elwood Swanton. She will be leaving Saturday, August 4 for her home in the Yukon after a holiday of a month, during which time she visited Canada's Wonderland, Ontario Place and a number of local lakes and beaches. Shawne also visited with uncles Jim Swanton at his Lindsay home and Lawrence Anderson in Minden.

The Victoria County mobile resource van invites preschoolers and their families or any other interested parties to attend the book lending library at the Kinmount Community Hall on August 23 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Since writing in last week's column about the lady on Highway 503 towards Ironstone and myself losing lawn and wishing well ornaments, I've had a phone call from Florence Walker informing me she had a white lamb ornament stolen from inside her gate and that Maggie Kylie is feeling badly because a ceramic 'elf' made by and given to her about two years ago has also gone missing.

Visitors at the home of Doris and Garland Barkwell this past week were Mary Lampard and Charles McNamara, both of Toronto.

Bill and Win Wilson are currently enjoying granddaughter Sarah Brady, who came by air from her home in Kispic Valley, British Columbia.

Stay well and happy, read the Echo, call me at 488-2353 and remember: it doesn't take long for a man with push to pass a man with pull.

This ungainly vehicle is based on a 1920's Ford chassis and engine. It was used on an area farm once, but its main use is for display purposes at events such as Pioneer Days in Dorset last Saturday.

Dorset News

By PHYLLIS BRISCOE

"Whether it is the best of times or the worst of times, it's the only time you've got."

What unsettled weather we have been having. A couple of nice warm sunny days are followed by a couple of cool, rainy ones. How frustrating for holidayers who are renting a cottage by the week and have to spend half their time shut in playing cards or something. I guess it helps the local merchants as people do get out and shop on rainy days. Let's hope it improves as time goes by.

Requiem for a kitty. He was a friend, a companion and someone to carry on a conversation with, a member of the household. He was here for 16 years, which is a fairly good age for a feline, and he had a happy life. He was smart, else how could he have reasoned that by ringing the doorbell (which he did by standing on his hind legs and pushing the button) entrance could be gained, and if the response wasn't prompt, the ring was repeated. But the years caught up with him and he became ill and it became evident that euthanasia was inevitable. So the home is lonely and I know when the door bell rings it is a friend or relative and not my black Angel. I am sure that he is in Kitty heaven and probably happier than he was the last few weeks of life.

There is lots of activity in our community this summer. Saturday, July 28 a flea market was held at the Dorset Fire Hall, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. On Friday, July 27 a Lobster Roast was followed by a dance in the Big Tent with music by Jeff Avery.

On Saturday, July 28 Pioneer Days activities took place.

We are sorry to hear that Walt Tyson has been in Huntsville Hospital. We wish him the best and hope that he will soon be feeling better and that we will see him buzzing around on his motor bike. It is nice to see Art Lock out and about again after spending some time in hospital a while back.

We express our deepest sympathy and that of the community to the family of Jamie Vancleave of Baysville who lost his life in an accident on July 14. His family have relatives in Dorset as well as many friends and acquaintances.

The Lions Bingo is on every Monday and Thursday evenings at 8 p.m. in the Community Centre.

H.H. When your teacups or teapot become stained from use take a little baking soda and rub gently. It is non abrasive and does an excellent job.

A farewell party was held at Branch 624 Royal Canadian Legion for Paddy and Rockie Welsh. The hall was packed with well wishers and ably conducted by master of ceremonies, past president Wally Marks. President Pat Gallen presented a plaque to the couple, whose dedication and comradeship will be sadly missed, and also, an envelope of money. Phyllis Bowen, president of the ladies' auxiliary, then presented comrade Rockie with a purse of money. Jack Bartholemew entertained with his guitar and singing and his rendition of "Danny Boy" received a standing ovation.

The ladies' auxiliary will be holding a bake sale and flea market on Saturday, August 4 at the Legion hall from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This past Sunday, the first CMA sanctioned motorcross race was held at Bill's Hills. It was a gorgeous day for weather and an exciting event was enjoyed by many spectators. Ninety riders from all over Ontario participated in the races consisting of 10 different classes. As many as 19 riders at a time were at the starting gate and provided thrills and chills as they raced around the new track. Each race lasted 15 minutes. The riders were working for points through CMA but were pleased with their trophies too, which were presented at the end of the day. There were five winners in each class.

Next event will be an amateur hill-climb on August 19. Some of our local riders participate in this event as well as riders from Lindsay, Peterborough and other areas.

St. Margaret's Anglican Church was the scene of a lovely wedding that took place in the early evening on Saturday, July 28. The weather was fine as a host of relatives and friends arrived to witness the marriage of Janet Lockwood and Eric Saunders. The beautiful bride in her white gown was accompanied by her bridesmaid Susan Lockwood, sister. Best man was Wayne Sanderson and ushers Dwayne Lockwood and Philip Whitefield. The Rev. John Phillips, assisted by Rev. A. Dowdell, united the couple. Mrs. Sylvia Cameron was at the organ.

This was the setting for a very happy wedding. Eric has always been a very popular fellow in the community and everyone joined in with their congratulations for future happiness for the newlyweds. Harold Herlihy took pictures of the event and many other cameras were clicking away to record this special occasion.

Other friends joined the wedding party later at the Lloyd Watson Memorial Hall for a lively celebration of dancing and refreshments. A most enjoyable time was had by all. Many brought gifts. Doug McCrea of Oshawa supplied some toe tapping music. Janet and Eric are spending their honeymoon in the States. Our good luck wishes go with them.

Ernie Atkinson of Tory Hill, war veteran and member of the Wilberforce Branch 624 Royal Canadian Legion, died suddenly at the Haliburton hospital early Sunday morning July 29. Legion service was held at the Tory Hill United Church on Monday evening. The sympathy of all is extended to his wife and family.

In a recent write up of the late Frank Saunders we said that he died at his home in South Wilberforce. This was not so. Frank died at the Haliburton hospital.

We welcome back to our community Mr. and Mrs. Al Rawlins who have purchased a home on Boskung Lake. They were the previous owners of Alkamali Resort on Halls Lake and for many years Lil was the superintendent of Hyland Crest.

Mrs. Muriel Brown of Brampton spent the weekend with Mrs. Doug Brown visiting with friends and former pupils.

Congratulations to everyone who worked hard to make Stanhope Fun Day the great success it was and particularly the Highland dance group who performed during the senior citizens' afternoon tea.

Wendy McKay of Toronto who has spent the last few weeks with her Aunt Laurie in Brockville is spending his rest of the school holidays with her dad, Ray McKay.

We are very happy to welcome Dorothy Barker of San Diego, who is staying with Mrs. Estelle Ralph. Dorothy, who was known here as Mrs. Dick Thomson and owned the Homestead Cottage Resort on Highway 35 at Boskung Lake, also taught school in Dorset and at the old Elsie School which is now a private residence. She was able to meet many old friends and former pupils at the morning coffee following the church service on Sunday morning.

Best wishes for a return to good health to Russell Walker, who had surgery in Oshawa General and is now at home and Cliff Skelding who was a patient in Wellesley in Toronto and the Haliburton hospital. He also is now home but returns to Haliburton for treatment daily.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Watson and son Andrew spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnhart.

Mark your calendar folks for August 8, when the ladies of our community put on the annual summer dinner of roast beef. Tickets may be bought prior to that date. Just think, no meal to cook, no dishes to wash.

Visiting with the Jack Gregories are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Westwater and family, Janice Douglas and Sheila of Kirkcaldy, Fife, Scotland. Shiela and Joan met for the first time after being pen pals for 41 years. Hazel and Mrs. Westhaven, who has been here before, have been pen pals for 55 years.

Our sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker. We just learned that her mother, Mrs. McGinn, died Saturday night in Peterborough hospital. Funeral services will take place from St. Patrick's Church in Kinmount on Wednesday.

A beaver dam broke last Tuesday night near Kinmount, causing extensive damage to Highway 121 about two miles east of the community. Work crews were busy repairing the eroded pavement last Wednesday morning.

Congratulations to Mary-Lou and Carl Packard on the safe arrival of a son; a baby brother for Jennifer Packard and a half brother for Chris Austen. Proud grandparents are Walter Austen, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Packard and myself. Jeffery Michael is a great grandson for Eva Harrison.

Don't forget the Minden Red Cross Society bazaar on Main Street in Minden on Saturday, August 4.

Funny thing about corn: in the mid-west it's measured by the foot, in the south by the fifth, and on television by the hour.

The three-wheeled all-terrain will be at the Moto-Cross track at the Minden fair grounds on Saturday, August 4.

Would you believe that despite the scary stories to the contrary, no plant or tree has ever been found that eats up men or large animals. However, there are plants which attract and devour insects.

There will be a flower show at the Minden Community Centre Thursday and Friday, August 9 and 10.

The second annual art mart will be held at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery August 7 to August 25. It will feature a selection of arts and crafts by many excellent local crafts people. It is also a good chance to find that special gift.

The winners of last Thursday's card party were Marion Trimble, Freda Harrison and Charles Beharrell.

Household hint for floors: Save old woolen socks and sweaters to use for polishing waxed floors. Put a couple of cups of vinegar into a half pail of warm water and wash and polish furniture and hard wood floors. This keeps the high luster on furniture and floors.

If you have any news for me to include in my column please call 286-3607. Thank you.

There will be movies at the Library/Cultural Centre on Thursday, August 2 from 7:15 to 8:15. Admission is free.

There will be a puppet show on August 23 at the Library/Cultural Centre. I'll get more information on it later this month.

Recipe for this week: French Dressing - 1/2 cup oil, 1/4 cup vinegar, 1/2 cup ketchup, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika and 1/2 cup white sugar. Place in refrigerator. Do not freeze.

Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll had their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Miguel Peldato of Ottawa visit with them last week. Jose Miguel participated in the race from Camp Onondaga. Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Peldato, Anelia, Anselmo and Alex Garcia from Barcelona, Spain, accompanied them on their visit to the Carrolls. They all enjoyed their visit to the area and they also like Minden. Anelia Garcia is a ballerina and has won a scholarship in New York City.

I thought the lynx was almost extinct around this area, but we have heard one on two different occasions just in the bush across the highway from us.

The rock bass fish derby will be held Saturday, August 11 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Gull River in Minden. The official weigh-in will be at 4 p.m. on the main street in front of the Dominion Hotel.

That's all for this week. I hope to see you all next week.

Norland Natter

By KELLY GRAHAM

Intended for last week

How many of you attended Norland's annual horse draw last week? I'm sure those of you who did will agree that the exciting draws, the challenging games and the bright sunshine added up to a great time for all.

Tracy Ross of Toronto was recently up for a visit with me. Tracy is a former Norland resident.

There will be a Brohm family reunion on July 28 at Balsam Lake Provincial Park in Cobocook. The activities planned are as follows: nine a.m. to noon - registration, 12 to 1 - lunch (bring your own), one to three - fun and games, three to four - business, four to six - supper (bring your own). Family trees will be available for those interested. Those attending are asked to bring their own TV trays and lawn chairs.

Congratulations to Jim and Susan Vanderlip of the Norland area who were recently blessed with a baby boy. Brother for Julie and Daniel, little Gregory Clarke weighed in at a healthy 7 lbs. 12 oz. Gregory is another grandson for Roy and Marion Vanderlip of Norland. Roy Vanderlip is the minister of the Norland Pioneer Baptist Church.

For all of you bingo fans out there, remember there are weekly bingo games at the Norland Community Hall beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Attention all would-be stars. There will be a talent show on Saturday, August 4 at Ward Memorial Park in Norland. What was once designated as a country and western talent contest will now include anything you can dream up, including baking and crafts (baking must be from scratch). The Norland Leathercraft Society will have a booth set up where those interested will be able to purchase leather articles. There will also be a balloon-a-thon for the more sporty types. Those who wish to register may do so on that day.

The race track under construction at Ward Memorial Park has been completed and work resumes on the soccer field.

The Norland Bicentennial Committee is planning another fun community activity for this fall. Although definite plans have not been made, possibilities of a corn roast are being discussed.

The Norland area has been racked by multiple tragedies this past week. Early on Sunday, July 15, there was a fire at a cottage on Highway 503 west of Norland. Unfortunately, the fire was out of control by the time firefighters arrived. Damages exceeded $20,000. Fortunately the cottage was vacant at the time.

I would also like to express sympathy to the family and friends of the victims of two separate automobile accidents that occurred last week. James Baker, 21, of Kirkfield, was killed on Saturday, July 14 on Highway #48 near Kirkfield. Brian LaPointe, also from Kirkfield area, was killed on Sunday, July 15 in Bexley Township.

The Norland Women's Institute held their afternoon tea and bake sale on Wednesday, July 25 at the Norland Community Hall. Unfortunately, this information was received too late to be put in last week's column. Please phone by Wednesday, any items which you want in by the following Thursday (454-3707).

West Guilford News

By E. COOPER

The busiest time of the season has brought many guests to the community.

Lenore and Ed Wright have had Lenore's brother, Randy Davy, his wife, Nancy and family at their home, Sunset Cottage, at Hillcrest Haven for a week.

Congratulations to Mike and Sharon Sisson on the birth of a son, Cory Michael on July 19.

Guests of Sid and Louise Cooper have been Fran and Bill Currie of Brantford and Linda and Randy Storey and family of Hanmer, Ont. Kathleen Skerrett of Toronto is also at Lakeside Golf Course for a few weeks.

I was sorry to hear of Brian Armstrong's injury to his right hand due to the accident when a deer hit his car.

St. Andrew's church women met at the church on Wednesday evening to discuss plans for a salad supper in August. Posters will be posted and notices will be noticed prior to the date. Everyone will be welcome.

Shelley and Dean Minto were home from Waterloo for Lisa Jones' birthday.

If there seems to be a preponderance of Cooper news in this column it is because your reporter is particularly aware of it. News for the column can be phoned in to 754-2278 or 2388 or a note dropped in to the P.O. box at the store. People farther afield do read these items and we don't want to stop their reading through sheer boredom.

Thanks to our swimming instructors for the Red Cross programme in July. Karen Morrison of Haliburton Lake and Anne-Marie Vanlieshout for their excellent instruction. They are now repeating the programme in Haliburton at the Rotary Beach.

Don and Betty Cooper (there it is again!) of Woodstock visited Mrs. Stanley Cooper on the weekend.

Barry Martin participated in the Heineken Yard Race in Minden on July 27. Approximately 300 entered and completed the 7.46 km. run.

HUDAC NEW HOME WARRANTY PROGRAM

Norland Natter

Well, another Coby fair weekend has passed, this time raining only on the Friday night. Believe it or not Saturday was clear for the many fair-goers. I hope everyone had a good time. I did.

My sympathy to three local people who recently had to cope with the loss of a loved one. Dolly LeCraw recently lost her father. Michael Puterbaugh's grandfather, Leslie Puterbaugh, died last week. Both Michael and Dolly reside in Norland. Another Norland resident, Maurice Lewis was recently faced with the death of his mother, a Nova Scotia resident.

The New Kawartha Water Safety Programme ended its four weeks of swimming lessons last Friday, July 27. This year's programme proved to be extremely successful with over 100 participants.

Just one final reminder before the big day: next Saturday, August 4 is Norland's own talent show at Ward Memorial Park in Norland. Just about any kind of talent you may wish to exhibit is acceptable and those who wish to register may do so on that day.

The Pioneer Gas Station in Norland, owned by Darrell Janke, was recently robbed. Fortunately the extent of the crime was some stolen cigarettes. The exact day of the robbery is unknown but it is thought to have occurred on either July 17 or 19.

Olivia Detlor and her husband Murray recently had their niece, Mrs. Jacqui Case and her baby son Martin visiting for two weeks. Mrs. Case and little Martin reside in London, England.

The euchre scores for Thursday, July 26 were as follows: ladies' high, Debby Chynoweth; men's high, Tom Bowins; ladies' low, Pat Marsh, Ada Thomas (tie); men's low, Les Thomas; lone hands, Ziggy Kwasnik. Congratulations to all winners.

Well, that's about all for this week. If you have any interesting news you would like to see published please call me at 454-3707.

Glamorgan council

A regular meeting of the Glamorgan Township council was held Wednesday, July 4, and the following matters were considered:

Accounts were approved for payment: General, $123,528.92; Road, $17,036.05; Welfare, $3,387.34; and Recreation Committee, $263.92.

Larry Hunter, chairman of the road committee, gave a verbal report on the committee meeting of July 3, 1984, including notice to council that the committee is inviting commercial land owners from the hamlet area to its next meeting to discuss drainage.

By-law 84-12, a by-law to regulate the installation of culverts, was passed.

By-law 84-11, a by-law to close and convey the road, way, the former right-of-way, in Part lot 30, Con. 10, Township of Glamorgan, was passed.

Council approved, in principle, applications from adjoining land owners on Billings (Wolf) Lake, for closure and conveyance of portions of the original shoreline allowance for road not presently under the water, provided all municipal policies are adhered to and the approval of the various government and other agencies is obtained.

Beverly MacDuff will be re-imposed $100 toward the cost of the AMCT course.

The next regular council meeting was changed from August 1 to August 8.

David M. Bishop was instructed to proceed on behalf of the Township in accordance with paragraph 6 of page 2 of his letter dated June 29, 1984.

The position of Robert Winder as a member of the Recreation Committee was declared vacant due to unauthorized absence from meetings for more than three months and Pat Baron was appointed to complete the term of office.

The reeve was authorized to investigate the cause of roof leakage and to oversee repairs to the roof and to the floor at the Community Centre.

John Traviss was hired to construct the concrete block washroom at the park under the supervision of the Job Creation Committee and a helper will be hired when required.

Applications for Consent H81/84, H82/84 and H84/84 were recommended for approval subject to payment of the $50 administration fee for each application.

This old fashioned gasoline powered donkey engine was used on the farms of yesteryear. It was demonstrated in Dorset on Saturday as part of Pioneer Days in the community.

Sherborne et al council

months of July and August, 1984 as "Short-sleeve Sport Shirt months" for the Hamlets of Dorset and Oxtongue Lake.

John McDermott, Associate Planner for Totten Sims Hubicki Associates met with council and introduced Mark Conway, recently hired by TSH as junior planner. McDermott gave council a proposal for continuing planning consulting services. A review as made of the previous year's costs of consulting services. Council was to decide to continue with TSH as planning consultants or to deal with the newly formed company of Planco Consultants. A decision was made to continue with Totten Sims Hubicki Associates Limited.

Dave McDonald, Chief Building Official for the township, spoke with council briefly on planning and zoning matters that had been handled by him since the last meeting of council.

Joan London presented a letter of concern in respect to the tardiness of council minutes being placed in the local paper. The clerk was directed to correspond to London as to this service being free to the township and that submission to the paper on Tuesday following a Monday meeting would not appear until the following Wednesday edition, providing space is available.

From the Chamber

This past week has not been a particularly pleasant one for the Chamber of Commerce office. I realize the freedom of the press and the individual's right to question our existence is a part of our democratic society. However, we are dancing as fast as we can. And there is a tremendous amount of work to do in support of our volunteer board who give freely of their time and effort, and in praise of our staff who do their best to please the travelling public and our members. May I add my thanks to the people who have stopped me on the street to offer their encouragement and support, and to the members who have phoned to say "we're behind you all the way."

It is now four and a half months since I assumed the duties of managing your Chamber of Commerce and what a busy time it has been. I am happy to report that with the help of one capable employee we have managed to:

- set up a new accounting system that is easily administered
- sort out a chaotic filing system
- enrolled 11 members plus one association with a potential membership of 90
- we have had our trial run of the Sportsmen's Show with the assistance of Mike Kitchman who helped us survive the ordeal
- we have designed a new marketing plan (which will help introduce Haliburton County to not only our neighbours to the immediate south in Toronto and Kitchener, but to hopefully open up a new market in Buffalo, Michigan and other areas of the U.S.)
- our winter brochure is now underway and we are working on a daily basis with Allcom Marketing and COTA to ensure that it will be the professional marketing tool that we deserve, to help us build the winter tourism market
- we have run two management seminars
- re-designed the mandate for our committees
- written descriptions of duties for our Chamber Executive
- mailed out 12,000 Haliburton Directories to cottagers and local residents
- compiled a distribution list to ensure that our advertising is placed in the hands of people who will put it into effective use
- we have produced two newsletters
- attended three conventions
- arranged to have our new postcards printed
- brought the Haliburton Tartan back to the Highlands
- we have sent out more than 300 enquiries to tourism outlets, universities, ski shops and convention bureaus regarding our advertising.

We have visited more than 50 of our members; we wish time permitted to visit all of you as soon as possible, however, we are giving it as much of our time as possible. We will be around to see you as soon as we can. Perhaps the annual meeting in October will give us the opportunity to catch up. Please try to attend (October 10).

Don't forget to send in your nominations for the Highlander of the Year Award.

This week the Chamber welcomes four new members to the team:

Kawartha Business Services is located at the junction of Highway 36 and 649 in Bobcaygeon. They offer a wide variety of business services and their representative Len Jerrard will service Haliburton County. Len is a very pleasant person, and we feel that you can be confident in your dealings with him. Kawartha Business sells services in marketing such as: bulk mailing, which may include printing and layouts, and if required suggestions or assistance in preparation. They also design overall sales and marketing campaigns, including sourcing all printing, art work and products. The telephone number is 705-738-2346.

County Feed Store is located in Haliburton Industrial Park in Haliburton Village. The store is owned and operated by John and May Burgess. They sell a complete line of feed and pet food as well as garden supplies and lawn ornaments and flowers. The store is open 6 days a week from 8:30 to 5:00. Fridays until 9:00. Call 705-457-2291.

Dorothy Black is our third new member. Dorothy is the wife of Brian Black who works for Curry Motors in Haliburton Village. Dorothy is a well known member of the Haliburton community and is a former resident of Minden. She is in the process of establishing a typing and office assistance business that she will operate from her home in Haliburton. Call 705-457-2835.

Lutterworth Feed and Bait is located on Highway 35 at Moore Falls. This business is owned and operated by Jim McMahon. Jim is a most obliging businessman who is open seven days a week and Friday until 10:00 p.m. They sell a wide variety of goods including a complete line of master feed products, English and Western horse tack, heavy horse equipment, harness repairs, cattle and horse trucking, live bait, firewood, farm fencing, and farm electrical supplies. Welcome Jim.

easier to obtain frozen green peas. Fresh ones are almost impossible to find. Southerners do use green peas in some very interesting ways. The following salads are different and simply delicious.

English Pea Salad

1 pkg frozen green peas, do not thaw
1/2 cup mayonnaise
few leaves lettuce
1 cup unsalted peanuts
1 tbslp sugar
Chop peanuts coarsely, mix with mayonnaise and sugar. Toss with frozen peas to coat. Arrange on lettuce. Let sit 10 mins.

Mixed Pea Salad

3/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup vinegar
1 cup celery
1 cup onion
1 (17 oz.) can peas, drained
1 jar pimentos, drained
1 can white corn, drained
1 tsp salt
pepper
1 tbslp water
Mix sugar, vinegar, salt, pepper and water. Boil 1 min. Cool. Chop onion and celery fine. Mix with other ingredients. Toss. Chill overnight.

Southern Pea Salad

1 (17 oz.) can peas, drained
2 cups chopped lettuce
3 tbslp mayonnaise
parmesan cheese
1 clove garlic
1 small onion, chopped
salt and pepper
Rub salad bowl with garlic. Mix lettuce, peas, onion, salt and pepper. Toss with mayonnaise. Spoon into bowl, sprinkle heavily with parmesan. Refrigerate about 2 hours.

Chiles are used extensively in the south, part of the Mexican influence. The chile family is noted for being hot and fiery with Jalapenos (Halapenos) a good example. This a small okra-like pepper, very very hot. Avoid it unless you like things very very. The mild green chiles are larger and longer although still not like the green bell peppers. Mild chiles can be purchased fresh (be sure to ask if they are mild) or canned. Check the information on the can to be sure they are the mild variety. Green chiles add a lift to meat, cheese and vegetable dishes. A small 4 oz. can chopped can do wonders for omelette or meat loaf.

Green Chile Quiche

Pastry for 9" pie
3 eggs beaten
1/2 tsp salt
1/2 lb. beef
1 cup milk

dash garlic powder
1/4 onion chopped
1 (4 oz.) can chiles drained
2 cups shredded cheddar or monterey jack cheese
Prick bottom and sides of pie shell, bake 375° 10 minutes. Cool. Cook ground beef and onion till red is gone and onion tender. Drain. Put beef into shell, top with chopped chiles and cheese. Combine eggs, milk, salt and garlic powder. Pour into shell. Bake at 375° 35-40 minutes until set.

Zucchini [Mexican Squash] Casserole

5 medium zucchini unpeeled and cut into 1/4" slices
1 large onion chopped
1 can chiles (4 oz.)
2 tbslp oil
1/2 cup parmesan
1 can tomatoes (16 oz.)
Do not drain chiles or tomatoes. Cook zucchini in salted, boiling water to cover for 10 minutes. Drain well, set aside. Saute onion in oil to tender, stir in undrained tomatoes and chiles. Cook 15 minutes until thick. Place zucchini in 12x8x2 inch casserole, top with tomato mixture, sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese. Bake 350° for 20 minutes. Yield 6-8 servings.

Writers' CornerBright Angels

Bright angels, o'er me spread your wings,
Fan to blaze that creative start;
Open my ears so that nature sings
Into and from my loving heart.

Bright angels, I have sensed you near
When sighs the grandly plumed pine,
Have heard you in the waters, hear
You singing in this soul of mine.

Bright angels, living colour-sound,
Would that your splendour I could see;
But let suffice that I have found
You near, and you have watched o'er me.

You can be a 4-H leader
Want to get more involved with the young people in your community? Consider the challenge of becoming a leader for the September 4-H project, "Fitness Fare".

Don't worry if you've never been a 4-H member - many present 4-H leaders weren't previously involved. The only requirements are lots of enthusiasm and a desire to work with the youth in your community. To prepare you for the project, a one-day leaders' workshop will be held in these locations: Board Room of the Lindsay Agricultural Office, August 21 and 22; and Lakefield United Church, August 28 and 29. Workshops are from 9:30 to 3:30.

As the title suggests, the project "Fitness Fare" is about two very popular topics, food and fitness, and how they affect each other. During the seven weekly meetings, members will learn the difference between stamina, flexibility and strengthening exercises. They'll also learn what kind of foods to eat before a sports competition, cooking methods for controlling fat content and how to make good and nutritious snacks.

Stamina or endurance is one of the most important aspects of fitness. Club members will find out how they compare to other Canadians of the same age. Also at each meeting, members will have fun preparing and eating recipes that are low in fat, high in fibre, not too sweet and still taste good. These include bacon and egg loaf for breakfast, corn chowder for lunch, swiss steak for dinner and cheesy popcorn for a nutritious snack. The highlight of the project will be the "Fitness Meet" held at Meeting 6.

Why not organize a 4-H club in your community? If you have a special interest in health, fitness and nutrition or would like to get into better shape, then here's an opportunity to personally benefit and also gain leadership skills. After you've attended the 4-H workshop, you return to your community and organize a 4-H club of at least four members. Members must be 12 years old by July 1, 1984, to participate. The project consists of seven meetings usually held at the leader's home or a local community hall.

To conclude the project, all members join together in November 1984 for an Achievement Program. There members get a chance to practise their public speaking skills by putting on a program of skits, exhibits and demonstrations related to the project. Award presentations are also made at this time.

Our 4-H motto is "Learn To Do By Doing", and that's just what members and leaders do. Why don't you become part of the new 1984 "Fitness Fare" 4-H project. Please register by August 17, 1984, with Christine Dukes, Rural Organizations Specialist (Home Economics), at the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food office in Lindsay (324-6125, Zenith 97920) or Peterborough (745-1403, Zenith 16310).

Mark Leahy on Assignment
Mark Leahy, Farm Management Specialist in the Lindsay Agricultural Office, will be spending the next three weeks as acting agricultural representative in Cochrane north district, working from the Agricultural Office in Kapuskasing. Mark has been temporarily assigned to that area to permit the agricultural representative there to take advantage of a special in-service training opportunity.

Some interesting research work on pasture management and the storage of forage crops has been carried out at the experimental farm at Kapuskasing over the past several years. Mark is looking forward to having an opportunity to see some of this program on a first hand basis. This should help Mark provide information on pasture management to farmers in Victoria and Haliburton Counties.

Mark will be returning to his normal duties in the Lindsay Agricultural Office on August 20.

Earwigs
The European Earwig is a very common pest in homes and gardens and appears to be around in abundance this summer.

The adult earwig is about 1/4 of an inch long and reddish-brown in colour. Males have a pair of large curved forceps at the rear of the body, while those of the female are almost straight. Young earwigs look like the adults but are smaller. Earwigs hatch from eggs laid in the spring and live for only one year.

Earwigs eat both plant and animal foods, and when present in large numbers can damage vegetable and flower gardens. They are active at night and hide in dark secluded places during the day. In their search for food and shelter, they crawl over the ground readily entering houses.

Earwigs can be controlled with chemicals -- the recommended treatments include Carbaryl (Sevin), Malathion and Diazinon in spray, dust or granular forms. Treatments should be applied along building foundations, under verandahs and fences, and around wood-piles, garages and tree trunks. Since earwigs move very freely, repeat treatments are usually necessary.

Armyworm Alert
Armyworms have been reported from widely scattered areas of Ontario since the middle of July. The infestation levels vary from negligible to high.

Farmers are advised to check their grain fields in particular for armyworms. This should be done about sunset or early in the morning when the worms are up on the plants feeding. During the day time, the larvae hide in cracks in the soil or under clods of soil.
